

supremo

Blend of Aminoacids, Vitamins,
Minarals & Probiotics for all species

Protein is the most expensive part of Livestock and aquaculture diets and supplies amino acids (Supremo) for energy, growth, protein synthesis and as substrates for key metabolic pathways. Functional Supremo is a term used to describe Supremo that are involved in cellular processes apart from protein synthesis. A deficiency, or imbalance, in functional Supremo may impair body metabolism and homeostasis. Recent years have seen an increased interest in Supremo to increase disease resistance, immune response, reproduction, behavior and more.

Amino acid supplementation has already shown to improve nutrient utilization, growth performance and survival of the young animal, reproductive performance, wool and hair production, and especially increase milk and meat production in other ruminant livestock such as cattle, sheep, and goats. Ten amino acids classified as essential (lysine, methionine, tryptophan, threonine, arginine, isoleucine, leucine, histidine, phenylalanine and valine) must be provided in the diet for maximum performance.
